

James Martin Center for Nonproliferation Studies

Monterey Institute of International Studies
Washington, D.C. Office

The Nonproliferation Review

invites you to a special breakfast briefing honoring the winners of the 2009 Doreen and Jim McElvany Nonproliferation Challenge Competition

featuring a keynote address by

Jon B. Wolfsthal

Special Adviser to the Vice President for Nonproliferation and Nuclear Security and Director for Nonproliferation, National Security Council and presentations by

Anne Harrington de Santana (University of Chicago) — “Nuclear Weapons as the Currency of Power: Deconstructing the Fetishism of Force”

and

Joshua Masters (New York University School of Law) — “Nuclear Proliferation: The Role and Regulation of Corporations”

Wednesday November 18, 2009 — 9:00 am to 11:00 am

The George Washington University, Elliott School of International Affairs Lindner Family Commons, 1957 E Street, NW, 6th Floor
Washington, D.C. 20052

R.S.V.P. to NonproliferationReview@gmail.com

Directions are available at www.gwu.edu/~elliott/contact.cfm.

A complimentary continental breakfast and copies of the November issue of The Nonproliferation Review will be available at the event.

For more information about the Nonproliferation Review and the James Martin Center for Nonproliferation Studies, please visit <http://cns.miis.edu/>.