¹ The Status of a State's participation in treaties and organizations is defined in terms of its membership of and adherence to international organizations, treaties and agreements. A State Party fulfilled and implemented domestic legislative legal practices to bring about the legal application of the Treaty on the government and other entities to which the Treaty is applicable, such as formal approval by parliament or legislative bodies, and the Treaty is formally declared to be applicable on the State Party, and the required legal instrument of ratification has been duly deposited with the depositary. A Signatory State refers to a State whose competent authority or representative has affixed its signature to a Treaty text thus indicating acceptance of the Treaty and a commitment not to undertake any actions that would undermine the purpose of the Treaty, according to the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties, pending formal ratification.

² Membership requires ratification of the Chemical Weapons Convention.

³ China's ratification required for the CTBT to enter into force.

⁴ China issued a statement indicating its reservations to the BTWC.

⁵ A set of voluntary confidence building measures agreed to at the Second Review Conference of the States party to the BTWC (1986) under Article V.

⁶ Submitted information on BTWC CBM reports in the following years: 1989-2008.

⁸ China is not a member of the MTCR, but has shown willingness to adhere to its guidelines, and announced in November 2000 that it would refrain from helping other countries build ballistic missiles capable of delivering nuclear weapons.
